

CCPA/CalOPPA Appendix

The contents in this appendix apply to individuals residing in California from whom we collect personal information in compliance with the California Consumer Privacy Act (“CCPA”) and California Online Privacy Protection Act (“CalOPPA”) and are intended to supplement the information already contained in our privacy notice.

Categories of Personal Information

Below we have set out the categories of Personal Information (as defined in the CCPA) collected in the previous 12 months and whether during such period, we have sold or otherwise disclosed such Personal Information for a business purpose (as defined in the CCPA).

Category of Personal Information	Collected	Sold	Disclosed for a business purpose
A. Identifiers Examples: Name, alias, postal address, unique personal identifier, online identifier, internet protocol address, email address, account name, social security number, driver’s license number, passport number, or other similar identifiers.	Yes	No	Yes
B. Categories of Personal Information in Cal. Civ. Code 1798.80(e) Examples: Name, signature, social security number, physical characteristics or description, address, telephone number, passport number, driver’s license or state identification card number, insurance policy number, education, employment, employment history, bank account number, credit card number, debit card number, or any other financial information, medical information, or health insurance information.	Yes	No	Yes
C. Characteristics of Protected Classifications under California or Federal Law Examples: Race, colour, ancestry, national origin, religion or creed, age (over 40), medical condition, genetic information, marital status, military and veteran status, mental or physical disability, sex (including gender and pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding or related medical conditions), sexual orientation, gender identity or expression,	No	No	No
D. Commercial Information Examples: Records of personal property, products or services purchased, obtained, or considered, or other purchasing or consuming histories or tendencies.	Yes	No	Yes

E. Biometric Information Examples: Physiological, biological, or behavioural characteristics, including DNA, that can be used, singly or in combination with each other or with other identifying data, to establish individual identity, such as imagery of the iris, retina, fingerprint, face, hand, palm, vein patterns, and voice recordings, from which an identifier template, such as a faceprint, a minutiae template, or a voiceprint, can be extracted, and keystroke patterns or rhythms, gait patterns or rhythms, and sleep, health, or exercise data that contain identifying information.	No	No	No
F. Internet or Other Electronic Network Activity Information Examples: Browsing history, search history, and information regarding a consumer’s interaction with an internet website, application or advertisement.	Yes	No	Yes
G. Geolocation Data Examples: physical location.	Yes	No	Yes
H. Sensory Information Examples: Audio, electronic, visual, thermal, olfactory, or similar information.	No	No	No
I. Professional or Employment Related Information Examples: Job application or CV information, job history, job performance information.	Yes	No	Yes
J. Non-Public Education Information (as defined in 20 U.S.C. 1232g; 34 C.F.R. Part 99) Examples: education records that are directly related to a student maintained by an educational agency or institution or by a party acting on its behalf such as grades, transcripts, disciplinary records.	No	No	No
K. Inferences drawn from Personal Information Examples: profiles reflecting an individual’s preferences, characteristics, psychological trends, preferences, predispositions, behaviour, attitudes, intelligence, abilities, and aptitudes.	No	No	No

Please note that Personal Information excludes information which is “publicly available” (as defined in the CCPA), meaning that it will not include information lawfully made available from federal, state or local government records however if for instance individuals chose to publish certain information via social media or other platforms/channels, then this exclusion would not extend to that.

Use, Collection and Disclosure of Personal Information

For details on how we use your personal information, please refer to the section “Personal data we collect and how we process this data”.

As set out above in our privacy notice, we generally collect information from you directly however we may also collect certain information from the organisation for whom you work (such as your contact information and job title/role) or other third party. If we obtain your personal data from a third party, your privacy rights under appendix are not affected and you are still able to exercise the rights contained within this appendix.

For details on who we share your personal information with, please refer to the section “Sharing your information” above.

Your California Privacy Rights

If you are a California resident, the CCPA provides you with certain specific rights in relation to your Personal Information, as set out below.

- The Right to Receive Information on Privacy Practices and Access to Information (including as part of an Access Request) – i.e. the right to request certain personal information we have collected about you (including the categories and specific pieces of personal information, the purpose for collection, the sources we have obtained that information from and the third parties we have shared information with).
- The Right to Deletion – i.e. the right to request that we delete certain personal information which we have collected about you (subject to certain exceptions).
- The Right to Receive Information about Onward Disclosures – i.e. the right to request information about personal information we hold about you which is either disclosed for a business purposes or sold.
- *The Right to Prohibit the Sale of your Information (also referred to as the Right to Opt Out) & the Right Not to be subject to Price Discrimination based upon the exercise of the Opt Out Right- however please note that we do not sell your personal information to third parties.

With respect to some of the rights mentioned above, we may require that you provide a “verifiable consumer request” (as defined in the CCPA) before disclosing information to you. This is to ensure that the consumer making the request is the consumer about whom we have collected information (or is a person so authorised to act on that consumers behalf).

Other California Privacy Rights

- California's "Shine the Light" law (Civil Code Section 1798.83) permits users of our website/platform (as the case may be) that are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of personal information to third parties for direct marketing purposes.

Fees

If (at our own cost) we demonstrate that a consumer's request for information under the CCPA is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we may charge an administration fee, or refuse to act on the request.

Contact Information

If at any time you would like to contact us with your views about our privacy practices, would like to exercise any of your rights as set out above or have another enquiry or complaint relating to your personal information, you can do so via email at team@landanano.com or by post to Landa Corporation Ltd, Derech Gad Feinstein 13, Rehovot, P.O. Box@ 4090, NessZiona 7414002, Israel.

We will accordingly aim to get to back to you as soon as reasonably practicable. To the extent you have made a specific request as set out under "Your California Privacy Rights", we will confirm receipt of the request within 10 business days and respond more substantively to the request within 45 days from the time the request is received. If required, we may take up to 90 days to respond substantively to the request (from the time it is received) and we will inform you of this, and the reason for the delay, if applicable.